The Ocala House is being fitted with fire escapes in accordance with the state law. Mr. E. G. Golder, successor to Coons & Golder of Jacksonville, is doing the work, and those wise to such things as he is making a first-class job of it.

It looked like old times in Dr. D. M. Boney's office yesterday. The doctor was a busy man. He had eleven people in his office waiting for work. Three were from Umatilla, three from Bay Lake, three from the city, one from Wildwood and one from Jacksonville.

Mr. Dade, a commission man from Orlando, met with an accident this morning out on the Kendrick road. Something went wrong with his car and he could not control it so it turned over. Mr. Dade received a gash on the knee and a few bruises about his head. Someone passing by in a buggy picked him up and brought him to town. He was put in the care of a physician and was able to return to Orlando today on the afternoon train.

The executive committee of the library association held a meeting this morning and decided to send Architect George Mackay to Georgia to have a consultation with Mrs. Smeade, head of the library association of the state of Georgia. The Carnegie library board has referred all matters of the kind in this state, where differences have arisen over plans, etc., to Mrs. Smeade. There were present at the meeting Mrs. Camp, Mrs. Stovall, Mr. Meffert and Mr. Harris.

Mr. John T. Moore has just completed a large barn and hitching shed for teams in the rear of his place of business, The Carmichael & Son Co. The arrangement of the barn is after ideas of his own and is most serviceable. In a short time Mr. Moore will erect hitching sheds with feed and watering facilities for the teams of his country patrons and friends, with a capacity of at least 50 teams. These facilities are sadly lacking in Ocala and should be given more attention both by individuals for their customers and by the county and city governments for the general public.

FAMILY AVOIDS

SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With

Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble. Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old."

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught. Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

A TRANSLATION

From "Zu Kunt" issue of April 17, 1915:

Thirteen years ago Col. Feyler, one of the leading writers on the Revue Militaire Suisse, wrote regarding the nearly inert, or motionless trench war of today, that it would be a result of the newer technique of war. When numbers of men, arms and moral force and stamina of the opposing armies are nearly equal their tactics will also become so and the difference between the opponents will more and more disappear. Both armies become so immovable, as if one was seeking to surround an entrenched position, while the other endeavors to defend it. Sortie and hand-charge remain possible under the protecting fire of the fort guns; the center of both opposing forces remains inert and neutral. Thus will appear the defensive battle of the future.

Two human walls; between a narrow danger zone. Neither can go forward. One will seek to run around the other, which in order to prevent a success of such an undertaking, will extend its front. Each will stretch as far as its forces will permit; this neutral emulation will only be restricted by obstacles of nature, the sea, a mountain chain, or a fortified point on the border of a neutral country. Beyond such obstacles the opposing lines cannot stretch out. Hence on a battlefield, which never sees a battle, war need no necessarily ever come to an end.

Then it becomes necessary to seek for victory outside, and tactical maneuvers will resemble those in use at sorties.

This double human chain, which reminds one more of a set of bars than a wall, does not use its whole force. The power of the guns replaces or substitutes deficiencies in numbers. Yet, it becomes necessary to relieve the men, provide food, bury the dead, carry the wounded to the rear. This can only be done in the dark; for this reserves are required. Others, for preparation of lines of retreat and as substitutes in unexpected cases and incidents. What remains will be used by the more daring party to endanger the connecting lines of the enemy, to disturb the quiet of the general staff and to entice it into foolish actions and decisions.

The whole remains, on both sides, a defensive war with changing success and failure, which are locally limited and produce no deciding effect.

A constant spying for favorable opportunity and the weakest points of the enemy, which can be over run by the stronger; are the opposing forces near alike strong, then there is not much to be hoped for from such a dash. Probably in and before a fort, or an entrenchment or otherwise protected position, a condition of breathless watchfulness will prevail, until one or other of the opposing forces is compelled through external circumstances, such as bad finances, political troubles at home, deficiency of food, war paraphernalia, weapons and munitions, through the most paralyzing consciousness that no progress is being made, and all sacrifices of blood are in vain, is forced to desist and give up the fight.

For, the coming fights will also require much blood. Without clear foresight, great coolness and daring those forces cannot be guided and directed. More than ever will be necessary for the men, the leaders, the people, the need of patience strength and fortitude, and the higher chiefs a perfect mastery of all the arts in their line. With greater and greatest devotion must he, who undertakes such a war, prepare himself in advance for the worse possible contingencies.

"This sounds to use like prophecy." Remark by Maximilian Harden, editor of "Zu Kunt" (Future) Berlin, in its issue of April 17, 1915.

OCALA SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Alumni Association for the Ocala High School

Last evening in response to press notices, a score and more graduates of the Ocala high school met at the courthouse to take initiative steps in forming an alumni association. By request Prof. W. H. Cassels presided until a temporary chairman was elected. Prof. Cassels stated that the benefits derived from such an organization were too clearly seen to need mentioning, that twelve years ago there was only one school in the state with sufficient graduates to warrant an association and that the Ocala school today with her graduates could maintain an alumni association not surpassed by any one of the several schools in Florida now with such organizations.

Miss Annie Atkinson was elected temporary chairman and presided through the remainder of the meeting. Other temporary officers elected were, Mr. Welsh Dewey, vice chairman; Miss Margaret Jackson, secretary; Mr. Ralph Robinson, treasurer. Two committees were appointed by the chair, one on constitution and by-laws composed of W. T. Gary, chairman; Stephen Jewett and R. L. Anderson, Jr.; the other to procure a list of all graduates, composed of Miss Minnie Lee Carlisle, chairman; Mrs. C. H. Lloyd and Sam Burford. An informal discussion followed, after which the association adjourned to meet Monday, June 21, at 8 o'clock at the same place.

Miss Blanche Whaley is expected home this afternoon or Monday from Dade City, where she has been the guest for ten days of Miss Frances Liddon, having accompanied her hostess home.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Ley and Misses Hallie and Esther Ley, who have been in the city since Thursday, left this morning in their car for Orlando. Rev. and Mrs. Ley and Miss Esther were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bridges and Miss Ley of Mrs. W. K. Zawadski. Miss Ruth Ley remained over for a longer visit to Miss Meme Davis.

Mrs. J. J. Leitner has as her guest her mother, Mrs. W. W. Lindsay, who arrived the middle of the week from Dunnellon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Taylor are expected home in a few days from their extended wedding trip through the west. The last cards from them were mailed in Chicago.

Friends will regret to learn that Mr. Holmes Walters has been quite ill for several days.

Mrs. T. J. Killebrew and children left today for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Adecock at St. Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peyser, Miss Gertrude Peyser, Caroline and Babette Peyser went to Leesburg yesterday afternoon in their automobile.

Notice is hereby given that on the 7th day of June, 1915, the undersigned will apply to the Honorable Park Trammell, governor of the state of Florida, at his office in Tallahassee, for a charter for an incorporation, not for profit, to be known as the McIntosh Citrus Growers Association, upon the following articles of incorporation.

S. H. GAITSKILL, President.

Know all men by these presents, that the state of Florida, have this day associated ourselves together for the purpose of forming a horticultural corporation, under the laws of the state of Florida, as a non-profit association, upon the following articles of incorporation, to-wit:

Article 1. The name of this corporation is the McIntosh Citrus Growers Association.

Article 2. There shall be no capital stock of said corporation, but the same shall be organized and conducted for the purpose of dealing in all kinds of merchandise, supplies or appliances that may be necessary, useful, or convenient to its members in the cultivation, production and shipping and marketing of their products, and for such purposes may buy, own, sell and deal in all kinds of real and personal property, and shall have the power to borrow money and mortgage its property to secure the payment of same.

Article 3. The principal place of business of said association is to be in McIntosh, in the county of Marion, state of Florida. The annual meetings of the members of this association shall be held at said place on the first Tuesday in May of each and every year, at which place its directors shall be elected.

Article 4. The term for which this corporation shall exist is fifty years from the date of the issuance of its letters patent.

Article 5. That any person who is a bona fide citrus fruit grower in the state of Florida may become a member of this association, upon being elected to membership by the board of directors.

Article 6. That the voting power and the property interests of each and every member of this association shall be equal.

Article 7. The business and affairs of this corporation shall be transacted by a board of directors and a president and vice-president; said president and vice-president shall also be a member of this association and a director of the same; said board of directors shall also have a secretary and treasurer, both of which offices may be filled by one and the same person. The number of directors of this association shall be three; but the said association, without amendment of its charter, may at any time, by a two-thirds vote of its directors, increase its directorate, and may, at any time after so increasing the same, by a similar vote of its board of directors, decrease its directorate as said directors shall see fit; but at no time shall the number of said directors be increased to a greater number than nine, nor decreased to a less number than three.

That the names and residences of the officers and directors of this association who are to conduct the business until their successors are elected and qualified are:
